Application for Scholarship

Several scholarships are available through IUJ for highly qualified non-sponsored students. Those without any financial support needs should indicate that he or she is not applying for a scholarship in that section.

For Japanese Applicants

IUJ grants S. Nakayama Memorial Scholarships to qualified Japanese applicants. To be considered for this scholarship, complete the online application form in the 2nd phase of the online system.

For more details, please refer to the IUJ Scholarship Guidelines for Japanese Applicants.

For Non-Japanese Applicants

IUJ grants S. Nakayama Memorial Scholarships to qualified non-Japanese applicants. All non-sponsored applicants are eligible to apply for this scholarship. IUJ also recommends qualified Non-Japanese applicants to scholarship programs provided by our affiliated organizations such as MEXT, ADB, JERA, or Mitsui. To be considered for such scholarships, complete the online application form in the 2nd phase of the online system.

For more details, please refer to the “IUJ Scholarship Guidelines for Non-Japanese Applicants” on the following website: <https://www.iuj.ac.jp/admis/scholarship/>

Applicants are strongly encouraged to seek alternative sources of funding on their own, as not all those admitted to IUJ programs can be supported through IUJ administered financial aid.

Financial planning is especially important for non-Japanese applicants in obtaining a Certificate of Eligibility (CE) needed to obtain a Student Visa. You will be required to prove to the consular officer and the Japanese Ministry of Justice that you have sufficient funds to cover expenses for study in Japan, such as the university's tuition and fees and living expenses (housing, food, clothing, etc.).

Notes:

- Recipients of any scholarships obtained through IUJ, including the S. Nakayama Memorial Scholarship, must have a Student Visa.
- The results of external scholarship selections are not available to IUJ until after mid-March or later each year. Moreover, non-Japanese applicants who are recommended by IUJ to an external scholarship foundation for consideration need to complete a separate application process (the Admissions staff will provide guidance in a timely manner) and wait for final decisions to be made regarding the granting of scholarships, which can take until the middle of July.
- Application for scholarships does not affect IUJ's consideration of a student's application for admissions.
- If you do not submit a scholarship application, you will not be considered for any scholarships.
- Deadlines for scholarship applications are the same as admission application deadlines. A scholarship application must be submitted online along with the complete set of application materials for admission.
- There are no chances to apply for financial aid to cover tuition after entering IUJ. Students may have an opportunity to apply for some scholarships that cover only partial living expenses after enrollment, such as the JASSO Scholarship. The selection process is competitive.

Application Acknowledgment

As IUJ receives your completed online application forms, other required application materials/test scores, and supporting documentation, IUJ will send you acknowledgment messages explaining your application status, usually by email. These acknowledgement messages will contain the same unique application ID number you were given when you started your application online.

We ask you to use your Application ID number as well in all correspondence you may make with IUJ to help us identify you and provide timely support.

Admissions Results

You can confirm your admission results using your online application account on the announcement of admissions results dates listed in the table on the previous page. For successful applicants, we will send the admission package by email to each applicant. Admission decisions cannot be released by telephone, in principle.

Announced decisions are final. IUJ will not respond to any inquiries about unsuccessful results.

Admission Procedures

Successful applicants will be requested to inform us of their intention to enroll, and will be asked to submit some additional documents and pay the Admissions Fee. Only those who complete the admission procedures will be issued an official LETTER OF ADMISSIONS. This letter, along with a Certificate of Eligibility which IUJ will help you obtain, is used to apply for your Student Visa from the applicant's local Japanese embassy or consulate. Please note that a student visa will be required to receive any scholarships through IUJ. Those who fail to complete these procedures will be considered to have declined IUJ admissions. Deferred admission is not offered at IUJ.

Protection of Personal Information

All personal information that IUJ obtains from applicants will be used solely for the purpose of admissions screening and the student registration process in subsequent admission procedures. All application information and supporting documents provided by applicants will remain confidential, and will not be released to any third party without prior permission of the applicants.
